

It's an exciting time for our kids and our schools!

Have you heard? There's a new school funding law called the LCFF (Local Control Funding Formula). It's a new way for schools to focus on student success.

LCFF requires school districts to involve parents in planning and decision making.

It also:

- Shifts spending decisions from the state to your local school district.
- Requires your school district to focus on the eight key areas that help all students succeed.
- Provides extra funding for students with greater challenges.
- Gives your district more flexibility for how to spend its money to improve local schools.

LCFF is a huge opportunity for parents to shape the vision for your children's education and make it happen!

Get involved now!

- Find out what your school district is doing to engage parents and share your ideas directly with administrators and school board members. Attend a meeting or volunteer to serve on a committee.
- Talk with your children's teachers and principal about the new law. Talk with other parents and connect with your local PTA.
- Learn more about the eight key areas of the Local Control and Accountability Plan (LCAP) and how they can help your child succeed. Check out more resources at www.capta.org.

Your voice matters – join the conversation!

www.capta.org